- On form IMM1295 Details of Intended Work in Canada it asks, "My salary will be." Duration of expected employment, what should I write down?
Your start date would be the day you choose as your intake date and you should say that your expected finish date would be 24 months later as you are only applying for a temporary work permit at this time. Your permanent application will be done here in Canada.
- There's a statement on the work permit that reads "This Does Not Authorize Re-entry" what does that mean?
It simply means that the work permit alone isn't enough to authorize re-entry; you'll need to have your passport.
- What if my work permit isn't valid for 24 months?
There is no real reason for this it simply depends on what the customs officer chooses to do. We recommend that you do not argue with the customs officer; we will deal with it once you arrive in Canada. You may have to apply for an extension.
- Biometrics are now required. IRCC will send you a letter with instructions as to where to get it done.

23. MPNP (Manitoba Provincial Nomination Program) – Manitoba Specific

a. How does the MPNP process work?

1. Submit the required documents:
 - Resume
 - CELPIP General or IELTS General Test results
 - Job offer from the Company

MPNP will assign the applicant to a processing officer. The processing officer will ensure the applicant meets all the requirements (resume, CELPIP General or IELTS General Test results, and Job offer from the Company). The processing officer will Skype interview the applicant to complete the assessment. Applicants will be assessed on the following:

- Age: 21 – 45 (unless otherwise specifically requested by the employer)

- Education: Have completed post-secondary education where required by the occupation/employer. (on selected pilots, on the job training may be considered)
 - Work Experience: Have at least 3 years experience in the past 5 years in an occupation related to the in-demand occupation for which they are being selected.
 - Official Languages Proficiency: Meet demonstrate language proficiency of CLB/NCLC 5 in all four skill areas. CLB/NCLC 4 for NOC C and D occupations may be considered at MPNP discretion.
 - Adaptability and Settlement Supports: Priority will be given to labour market needs outside of the Manitoba Capital Region. Candidates who demonstrate stronger ties to another province of Canada, through previous employment or previous completion of post-secondary education, may be deemed a retention risk and not approved by the MPNP.
2. The successful applicant is issued an invitation to apply for Expression of Interest (EOI) from the processing officer, which invites the applicant to create an EOI profile through MPNP's online portal. Eligible candidates complete a series of questions online. The profile will be placed in a pool with other eligible candidates and will receive a score based on the answers they provide.

Note: An Expression of Interest is not an application, but an indication of interest in being considered to apply to the MPNP. All candidates must answer all EOI questions honestly and completely. If false or misleading information is provided in the EOI, it may be considered misrepresentation and may be subject to a ban, which would prevent the applicant from submitting another EOI for a period of two years.

3. The MPNP will draw the highest-scoring candidates from the EOI pool and issue them a Letter of Advice to Apply (LAA). This document is forwarded to selected candidates electronically and enables the candidate to submit a full application to the MPNP. Additional documents are submitted, such as passport, birth certificate, education and employment information, as a part of their complete online application via the MPNP portal.
4. Once an applicant has submitted their complete MPNP application, their file will be assessed by program officers within a 6-month processing period. If the application is approved, the MPNP will issue the certificate (i.e. a letter) of nomination, and a work permit support letter (provided the candidate has submitted proof that they have a fulltime – permanent job offer with a Manitoba employer). The employer is required to pay the $230.00 compliance fee to Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) on behalf of the applicant. Once the employer completes this step, IRCC will issue the employer an offer of employment number beginning with the letter "A". The applicant will then use this offer of employment number- along with their MPNP Certificate of Nomination and Work Permit Support Letter- to apply to IRCC for a work permit outside of Canada. The processing time for a work permit is up to 4-16 weeks.
5. When the applicant's work permit application is approved by IRCC, they will be issued a letter or document (most likely from a local consulate office abroad) indicating that they have been approved for a work permit in Canada. Upon arriving at a Port of Entry in Canada, the applicant will be issued a valid work permit provided they present a CBSA Officer with a valid Entry Permit (if their country is not Permit exempt), and present a CBSA Officer with the letter of approval they received from IRCC, which indicates that they were approved to receive a work permit in Canada.
6. The applicant can apply for Permanent Residency (APR) once they have their MPNP Certificate of Nomination. APRs must be submitted to IRCC within 6 months of their issuance date of the nomination to remain compliant with the program.
